Wonderful 20th Century giltwood low table, that was originally in a Parisian boutique.

This vitrine was originally in a Parisian boutique. It is in the neoclassical Louis XVI style, but much more elaborate than many similar models.

It features a glazed window lid and a fine ovolo frieze. The table is supported on circular fluted and tapering legs.

The interior is lined with blue velour fabric, making it both a decorative piece of furniture in itself and also a great vehicle for displaying treasured collections and curios.

Materials & Techniques: Glass, Wood
