

DA3013187

Pair of Travertine Flamingos

£1,200.00

W: 0 cm
H: 0 cm
D: 0 cm

Fun and quirky pair of flamingo sculptures, by Maitland-Smith.

Made from travertine and brass, these flamingos are portrayed perched on rocky outcrops, in slightly different stances. Each has one leg raised in the air, and carved claw details.

Maitland-Smith was established in 1989 by an antique dealer and designer. Their designs include authentic reproductions of antique furniture, and designs influenced by new materials such as faux tortoiseshell and rattan. Maitland-Smith artisans execute designs of the finest quality and visual appeal.

This whimsical pair would make a fabulous addition to any interior.

Materials & Techniques: Brass, Travertine
Condition: Excellent
Period: 20th Cent

