19th Century French Napoleon III display cabinet.

This cabinet is ebonised with ormolu mounts and offers plenty of storage across two tiers.

This is a beautiful and classically elegant piece, relying on straight lines and canted fronts in its execution.

During the reign of Napoleon III (1852-1871) display cabinets such as this one were very popular.

These cabinets would display collections of porcelain, curios or other treasures and this example is fit to serve a similar purpose today.
