Decorative French 19th Century canapé sofa.

This sofa is in charming original condition and retains its original paintwork.

It has a neoclassical rectilinear frame, with a top rail comprising turned horizontal spindles.

The back features very decorative carved and painted panels with diamond, foliate and rosette details.

Subtly downswept arms are supported on turned uprights, which give way to tapering column legs.

Wonderful remnants of green, grey and white paint give this sofa a light and elegant appeal.

The seat has been recovered in a neutral French linen.
