Wonderful harlequin set of 12 early 19th Century Gustavian dining chairs. Circa 1800-1810.

These chairs have very minimal differences between them and all have been later painted white.

They feature shaped hoop backs with charming wheatsheaf pierced splats.

Resting on elegant square tapering legs and sturdy H-stretchers.

This collection of chairs demonstrates the neoclassical beauty of the Gustavian era, which has timeless appeal today for traditional and contemporary interiors alike.
