

WD8015119

Set of Eight Engravings of Facial Expressions from Ackermann's 'Cabinet of Arts' £1,700.00

W: 38 cm (14 15/16")
H: 43 cm (16 15/16")
D: 3 cm (1 3/16")

Set of eight framed engravings of facial expressions from 'The Cabinet of Arts', published by Rudolph Ackermann in 1821.

These engravings are from a book of artistic studies. The full title of the work, edited by John Dougall, was 'The Cabinet of Arts: Being a New and Universal Drawing Book Forming a Complete System of Drawing; Painting in all its Branches, Etching and Engraving.'

German-born Rudolph Ackermann first came to England in the 1780s and pioneered lithography. He established his own publishing house, Ackermann & Co, in 1795.

These fascinating engravings offer a great, unique form of wall decoration.

Materials & Techniques: Paper
Condition: Excellent
Period: 19th Cent

