Large English 19th Century Victorian painted pine dresser base.

This charming dresser base or counter offers three frieze drawers above four cupboard doors. It retains its original brass furniture.

This piece has been fully restored and finished in the round, using all of its original timbers and fittings.

It has been finished in a blue-grey paint with a gently distressed patina and the top left exposed.

This dresser could free-stand as an island or be placed against the wall. Either way, it has a timeless country house aesthetic and will be a fantastic useful addition to any interior.
