Beautiful Swiss 19th Century long table with a thick marble top, circa 1890.

The marble top with rounded corners has a striking creamy/beige colour.

It is supported on an elaborate cast iron base with three cross-form supports. Remains of original paint give it great character.

The base has also been given a wooden footrail at a later date which makes for an unusual contrast with the iron and marble, adding to this table's unique aesthetic.

The maker's name, 'Paquet et Frères a Grenoble' has been cast into the iron rosettes during manufacture.

This table has great scale and proportions and offers a stimulating range of colour and texture.

It will make for a wonderful dining table for indoor or outdoor use.
