19th Century Sejant-Rampant Lion Statue £12,750.00

W: 56 cm (22 1/16")
H: 160 cm (63")
D: 64 cm (25 3/16")

Majestic and huge English 19th Century terracotta figure of a lion.

This magnificent lion is depicted on his haunches in the Sejant-rampant or Sejant-erect pose.

He is boldly carved all over, with a wonderfully animated face and great detail to the mane and paws.

He has been made to hold a flag pole, most likely a maquette, with one arm raised and one lowered.

This statue is in good condition, with a lovely aged patina.

This lion will make for a fantastic feature in any indoor or outdoor setting. He would look brilliant guarding an entrance!
