

CO4116403

French Specimen Marble Console Table

£12,500.00

W: 124 cm (48 13/16")

H: 90 cm (35 7/16")

D: 54 cm (21 1/4")

Extraordinary 20th Century French Empire style console table.

This table is after a design by Jacob-Desmaller. The rectangular specimen top has a beautiful chequered design of hardstones and rare marbles in a variety of colours.

The top is supported over an elaborate carved giltwood frame. Four female caryatids support a frieze of finely carved flowing c-scrolls and delicate leaves, with lovely gilt accents throughout. The whole rests on a plinth base with a faux marble panel, which has been replaced and repainted.

François-Honoré-Georges Jacob-Desmaller was one of the most significant French Empire furniture makers. He ran a prosperous workshop in Paris with extensive royal clients.

This table has mesmerising details and a wonderful decorative presence. A brilliant interior piece.

Materials & Techniques: ['208', '226', '444']

Condition: Excellent

Period: 20th Cent

