H: 43 cm (16 15/16")
D: 4 cm (1 9/16")

Set of four 18th Century botanical engravings by Weinmann.

These beautiful engravings depict a collection of species which include, Aloe, Cereus, Euphorbium, and Sedum.

They come from Johann Wilhelm Weinmann's seminal work, the Phytanthoza Iconographia published in Regensburg circa 1740.

This pioneering work took around eight years to complete, comprising over 1000 engravings. Each engraving is wonderfully detailed and hand-coloured.

The Phytanthoza secured Weinmann's reputation as an eminent botanist and apothecary.

Each engraving is presented within leaf green painted box frames.

This set will bring the natural beauty of the outside world into your interiors.
