Wonderful 19th Century glazed cupboard.

This striking cupboard has been scraped back to reveal its original white finish. It is beautifully worn with few signs of structural repair that add to its charm and history.

It has three contoured shelves to the top and a singular door to the lower half that opens to a further shelf. Both doors open with a wooden turning latch and are painted in a 'pale eau de nil' on the inside.

The shape and design of this piece mean that it will offer useful storage in a kitchen or living area without imposing on the room!

Materials & Techniques: Pine
