Charming 19th Century shelving unit.

This fantastic piece features divided shelves from a 19th Century French Hardware store. It is painted with old white paint on pine with stenciled black writing denoting the items for sale on the shelves.

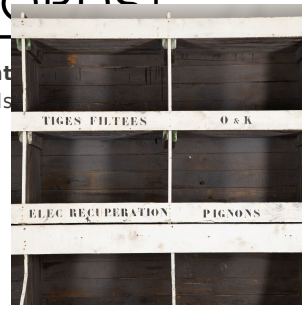

It is an unusual and fun piece that would look great within a kitchen or be used for storage within a living room.

It has an imposing presence because of its size and height but this does not detract from its homely charm.

Circa 1890.
