Fantastic French trumeau mirror.

This trumeau mirror is originally from France and was intended to reflect more light into rooms as well as provide a decorative feature.

They were the essence of architectural interior design during this period and their popularity has endured.

This mirror is set into a tall wooden frame, with a large section of carved and painted sculptural decoration to the top. Features light foxing to the mirror plate that adds to the authenticity and visual texture of the piece.

A lovely piece that would suit a range of interiors.
