"Undercurrent" By Tadeusz Franz Beutlich. Born 19 April 1922; died 16 April 2011. First purchased in September 1970 at the Grabowski Gallery in London. Having studied in Poland, Germany and Italy, Beutlich graduated in textiles from Camberwell School of Art and Crafts in 1950, and subsequently taught there from 1951 to 1974. His early work utilised more traditional tapestry techniques, but he became more experimental, using open-weave structures and incorporating unusual materials, such as in this wall hanging. Works by Beutlich are owned by public and private collections including the Council for National Academic Awards and the V&A.
