Mid-20th Century polished metal doctors desk.

This desk has eight lockable drawers of various sizes and a retractable instrument tray. The desktop with the original black Formica is edged with polished metal.

Made and designed by Baisch, a German company founded in 1907 originally producing motoring suitcases for Daimler- Benz and Pullman Limousines. By 1949 Baisch was producing furniture for the dental practices. Between the 1970 - 1980 became the decade of innovation for Baisch as well as moving into other areas such as medical furniture.

Unfortunately by 2010 the Company was insolvent and is now incorporated within F&T Ziegler who still use the Baisch name.

A beautiful piece of period furniture that is both practical and a truly wonderful conversation piece.
