Arts & Crafts English copper lantern, circa 1905.

This charming lantern features a domed copper lid and copper frame, with wavy old glass windows reinforced by metal lattice structures.

In true Arts & Crafts fashion, the process behind the lantern is clear in the end result with visible rivets.

Arts & Crafts practitioners returned to metalwork in their focus on reviving the decorative arts. They produced beautiful and useful household objects out of copper, brass, and other metals.

This lantern has great character and will provide an attractive artisanal touch to any interior.
