An imposing 1970s chandelier by Gaetano Sciolari, a chevron design using mirrored pannels and a brass structure.

This striking light fitting is a beautiful example of Mid-Century modern design. Sciolari was an italian designer, born into a family that had been producing light fixtures since 1892.

Sciolari's designs combined matte and glossy finishes and this chandelier exemplifies his futuristic style, which anticipated the dawn of a new space age.

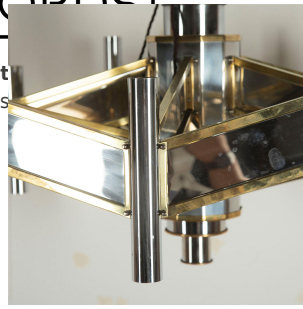

This bold, contemporary chandelier is the perfect statement for a hallway.
